SOCIETY EDITOR.

Thanksgiving week looms large in the social calendar. There will be two events of more than ordinary interest, the dance that on Wednesday evening will open the Arizona club's season, and the dinner and vaudeville at the country club the following night.

The Thanksgiving eve affair is being anticipated with pleasure, this being its initial event since it moved into its present quarters, more than a year ago. It is delightful that the club, once popular as a social organization, is again to be a factor in the gay life of the smart set.

Thanksgiving day will, as usual, be the occasion for golf and tennis tournaments at the country club. Of particular interest, however, will be the vaudeville that will be given immediately after the smartly appointed dinner.

Despite the attractions of fair week, the rehearsals were held regularly last week and there is no question about the cleverness of the acts. Among the most prominent actors will be Judge Kent, who is also the author of a clever sketch that will be presented by a group of amateurs of real ability.

Those who will take part are Mrs. Sims Ely, Jr., Miss Helen Ely, Miss Selma Goldberg, Miss Verde Butler, E. L. Allen, Dr. Gowan, Yewell Rice, Eugene Goldman, Lester Byron, Roy Murray, Ernest Bennett, Sidney J. Ross, Hugh Marshall, Paul Renau, Ingles, E. R. Parsons, Paul Armour, Jack Westervelt, Royal Lescher and Edward Marshall. A stage has been built for the affair and will be erected in the east end of the ball room.

The entire program is the idea of Mrs. Herbert Burr, who is directing the rehearsals. She is being assisted by Miss Eleanor Sloan.

Richard J. Hill was a dinner host at the Adams Wednesday evening. The table decorations of American Beauty roses was charming, as were the cards that marked places for Mr. and Mrs. Royal Lescher, Mr. and Mrs. Foster H. Rockwell, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Shuller, Miss Jane Rider, M. T. Brook and Robert Beardsley.

John Rinker Kibbey gave a box party at the fair Thursday, followed by a dinner at the country club. His guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bennett, Miss Ruth Ainsworth, Miss Emma Bennett and Theodore Freeland.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barber gave a luncheon at the Adams Thursday, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rowland, Joe Cassou and Donald Green.

Word was received here yesterday of the marriage of Miss Alice Chaffee to Francis H. Bowker, which took place at Rutland, Vermont, at noon Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Bowker left immediately after the ceremony for Carara, Nevada, where Mr. Bowker is extensively interested in marble quarries. Mrs. Bowker will be pleasantly recalled by the Phoenix smart set, for she was a great favorite when she visited Mrs. John Page a few seasons ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster H. Rockwell entertained informally at dinner at the Adams Thursday evening. Those who enjoyed their hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rice of San Francisco, Mrs. J. C. Adams and C. H. Loftus.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barber, Joe Cassou and Donald Green were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rowland's dinner guests Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Asbury gave a beautifully appointed dinner at the country club Wednesday evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Ross Bazell of Winslow.

Mrs. Lewis Wallace and Mrs. Horace Knowles entertained at dinner Monday evening, in honor of Mrs. Joseph T. Cook and her daughter, Miss Maud Hoxie, who left the following day for Buffalo. Besides the guests of honor there were present Mr. and Mrs. Royal Lescher and Robert Beardsley.

A desert picnic on Sunday preceded a jolly dinner at Sing's, at which covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Royal Lescher, Mrs. Horace Knowles, Miss Eleanor Sloan, Miss Maud Hoxie, M. T. Brooks, Richard J. Hill and Robert Beardsley.

Joe Cassou gave a dinner of six covers, Wednesday evening, the affair taking place at Sing's.

Mrs. W. S. Goldsworthy and Miss Bertha Goldsworthy left last evening for a ten days' absence in San Francisco.

Bert Clingan left Thursday for Tucson. He will return in December.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coleman Rogers (Margaret Bryan) are expected to arrive from Annapolis, where their marriage took place Thursday, early in the week. They will go at once to their country home the "Double R ranch, north of town.

Celora Martin Stoddard and her small son, James Vansant Stoddard, are passing the week end here, the guests of Mrs. Isaac Taft Stoddard. They will return to Los Angeles tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dunbar, who passed last winter here, returned from a six months' absence in Chicago, Sunday.

Mrs. P. C. Myers, Jr., returned from New York, Sunday.

Miss Florence Mitchell entertained at her home on East Washington street, Friday, Miss Catharine Anderson, Miss Vernice Misenheimer and Miss Mary Hanley, students of Flagstaff Normal School. Miss Marie Egly and Miss Frances McNulty, former students of Flagstaff Normal, were also among the guests.

Mrs. Robert Jordan and Miss Mollie Jordan, who passed a week here the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tweed, left Tuesday for their home in Massachusetts. A series of picnics were given in their honor, one of the most pleasurable being on Sunday, when Mr. and Mrs. Tweed and their guests and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Harriman motored to Granite Reef.

Mrs. J. W. Dorris and her daughter, Mrs. William Harrison Lewis, will give a luncheon Wednesday at the Dorris country place, Casa de Roman. The guests of honor will be Mrs. Edward Kenna and Miss Emma Bennett.

Congressman and Mrs. Carl Hayden were the guests of honor at a smartly appointed dinner given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Selim J. Michelson at their North First avenue residence. American Beauty roses were used in effective decoration and covers were laid for Congressman and Mrs. Hayden, Internal Revenue Collector and Mrs. Lewis T. Carpenter and Assistant County Attorney Leon S. Jacobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Francis gave a dinner of eighteen covers Thursday evening at their North Central avenue residence. Red roses decorated with artistic effect.

In honor of the birthday of William F. Van Meter, a number of their friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Van Meter at their home Tuesday and a delightful evening was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Johnson won the five hundred prizes and Frank Dykes the prize at a guessing game. There were present Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Lantry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dykes, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Altmore, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Standarde, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Callahan and Mrs. Joe Murphy.

Mrs. J. M. Yaple entertained with an attractively appointed dinner Sunday in honor of Congressman and Mrs. Carl Hayden.

A box party at the races, followed by a dinner at the country club, was a delightful event of yesterday, enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Van Leuwen, Mr. and Mrs. Selim Michelson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. O'Malley, Mr. and Mrs. George Lilley, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Earl Nash, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lewis of New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Prince, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Collings and Miss Martha McKecher.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Campbell were dinner hosts Wednesday evening. A pink color scheme was used in decoration and was artistically expressed in a charming arrangement of roses. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Packard, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Adamson of Douglas, Mr. and Mrs.

T. E. Pollock of Flagstaff, Miss Louella Campbell, J. E. Campbell of Seattle, Robert Norton of Tempe, Colin Campbell and Lewis Campbell.

One of the delightful events of the week was the informal dance at the Country club, Wednesday. Among those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Barry Goldwater, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Goldberg, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Goldberg, Mrs. I. H. Harris of San Francisco, Mrs. Horace Knowles, Miss Selma Goldberg, Miss Mae Wilson of San Francisco, Miss Marion Dorris, Miss Emma Bennett, Sam Wilson, Eugene Goldman, Dan Patch, Frank Lang, Charles Pope, Albert Rosenberg and Roy Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Etter of 346 North Fifteenth street will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Monday. Although no cards have been issued they will receive informally from one until four tomorrow afternoon. A family dinner will follow the reception.

The Entre Nous club met Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Selim J. Michelson, the members present being Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Van Leuwen, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Earl Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Prince and Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Bennett were the substitutes.

An engagement of interest, announced this morning for the first time, is that of Mrs. Genevieve Pettit and Fred Tatum, who are to be married in New York in January.

Mrs. Pettit, who is unusually attractive in appearance and manner, lived in Phoenix for several years and has many friends here. Mr. Tatum is also well known here. The millionaire mining man arrived in town Friday and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kay during his brief stay.

Mrs. W. J. Steckel arrived from San Francisco yesterday and is the guest of Mrs. Louis S. Dysart. She will be in town several days en route for her home in Bloomfield, Iowa.

Mrs. Lewis A. Carpenter will leave this week for a brief absence in San Francisco.

Congressman and Mrs. Carl Hayden will leave this evening for the exposition, where they will pass a few days on their way to Washington. They will be established in the capitol before December 1. The Haydens are exceedingly popular socially and will be missed by their many friends in the smart set, by whom they have been much feted.

Mrs. William Harrison Lewis, who passed fair week here, will be joined by Mr. Lewis on Thursday and they will return to San Francisco the end of the week. They will visit here again in December en route for White Sulphur Springs, where they will pass the Christmas holidays. Mrs. Edward Kenna will arrive from San Francisco on Wednesday and

CLUB NOTES

:: Official Organ State Federation of Clubs ::

Are you an advocate of gymnastics and dancing classes in connection with women's clubs?

"Yes, I am in favor of anything that tends toward physical, intellectual and spiritual development of women."

Mrs. C. F. Ainsworth, chairman of the art and literature department of the Woman's club.

Under the auspices of the art and literature department of the Woman's club, the Miller Sterling company will hold its annual art exhibition at the Woman's club. Preceding the exhibition will be a brief program, including an art talk by Miss Noble, chairman of the sketching class and piano numbers by Elton Ensign Hale.

Those who will serve tea during the afternoon will be Mrs. W. E. Defty, Mrs. Walter Talbot, Mrs. A. W. Coverdale, Mrs. Reba Elliott, Mrs. L. E. Hewins and Mrs. Anell Martin.

At three o'clock the meeting will adjourn to the department rooms on the upper floor where the Miller-Sterling Co. will hold its Third Annual Picture Exhibition, which will be open to the public from three to six in the afternoon and again in the evening from seven to ten. In this as well as in its previous exhibitions the Miller-Sterling Co. will have the co-operation of the Art Department of the club, which stands in the line of art of educational value to the community.

The exhibition this year will be of slightly different character from those preceding; the main interest centering in a splendid group of twenty-one canvases painted by the well known artist, Jessie Benton Evans of Chicago. These were secured by special arrangement with the artist, being shipped from Chicago for this occasion, and with the exception of the four which were hung in the art gallery at the State Fair and attracted so much attention during the past week, the paintings will be shown in Phoenix for the first time.

The greater number of these are of local interest, depicting bits of Arizona scenery familiar to the people in the valley where the artist resided. The greater part of last winter, transferring to her canvases the wonderful colorings of Arizona landscapes. In the collection are also a number of foreign scenes painted in Italy where the artist has passed much time.

One worthy of special mention was hung in the Paris Salon of 1911 and in the American Art Exhibition, Chicago, the following year.

In addition to the paintings in oil, a number of etchings by the same artist will be shown.

Mrs. Evans is not only an artist of acknowledged ability but a woman of exceptionally wide culture and a charming personality.

In speaking of her recently, Mrs. C. F. Ainsworth, chairman of the Art Department of the club, said: "We are deeply indebted to Mrs. Evans, for it was really she who was the inspiration of all the Art Department has accomplished during the past year."

The arrangement and decoration of the new art gallery in the Woman's building at the fair was designed by Mrs. Evans, whose plans were carried out most successfully by the local artists who had the matter in charge. So it is very opportune that just at this time the Phoenix people should have the opportunity of seeing a representative collection of paintings by this talented woman.

Another interesting feature of the exhibition on Tuesday will be a series of miniature reproductions of the work of the leading California artists. These are gathered by Benjamin Brown of Pasadena, as faithful reproductions of the originals, one of his own paintings being in the series.
